1. Digital outreach tools: including 866ourvote.org, @866ourVote, and facebook.com/866OurVote

US Department of Justice (DOJ)
- Every part of the country has a US Attorney (https://www.justice.gov/usao/find-your-united-states-attorney). Each one names an election lawyer who can investigate federal issues. Search for "District election officer" and your state.
- The head office of the Justice Dept (DOJ) monitors some areas, and you can send them reasons to monitor other areas as well. 202-307-2767 or 800-253-3931 https://www.justice.gov/crt/about-federal-observers-and-election-monitoring
- DOJ also receives complaints about civil rights discrimination.https://civilrights.justice.gov/#report-a-violation

Election Official Legal Defense Network
- They have lawyers who defend election staff against state laws, not against public, not observers. https://eoldn.org/
